THE MAYORALTY.

Mr. Robertson has been confined to his bed from a severe attack of quinsy arising from a cold contracted while on his way from New Year's Day, will resume his duties on Monday, and will meet his friends

at his meeting to-morrow evening.

VANDERBILT'S MILLIONS.

As all the world is aware, that his father, John, was one of the wealthiest men in the New World. Like many another in his position, he seemed to think more of the millions acquired (usually by stock gambling) than of the means of providing for the future of his race. And thus, he left the great bulk of it to his eldest son, William H., when he had trained to follow in his footsteps as a railroad

property and stock jobber, and who proceeded, after long trial, to be eminently successful in the property together, and increasing it in the years rolled by. The old man was a deep disappointment to all his family and friends, and they were all disappointed in him. He was the largest son, and the proceedings

which have since taken place show that it was his father's property which they loved, and not their parent himself.

It was in this case, that the principal

ligation by his last fortunate brother and sisters, has had unduly influenced the mind of his father against his other sons

and daughters, with the object of robbing them of their property, and they unwisely threatened to take proceedings before the Surrogate Court to have the will set aside. A liberal compromise was offered by the chief heir, with the object of keeping family matters out of court. For some months after the offer was made, it was thought it had been accepted, as nothing was heard of the matter,

which had begun to drop out of public recollection; but a hitch occurred somewhere, and proceedings were commenced in the Surrogate Court at New York, in the name of Mrs. La Bui, one of the Commodore's daughters, to have the will set aside

and more equal division of her father's estate made.

The case being one in which a great deal of money was involved by the public as in-

voluntarily of dollars—and what magister

powerful to attract a motley—full reports of the evidence taken before the Surrogate, given in the New York newspapers.

So far the result has been to cast obscure upon the dead millionaire and to show that all his worst faults, with many others added, have been inherited by his eldest son, William H., who has been at least in his living character. Certainly

J. Vanderbilt, a younger brother, of the more fortunate William H., has been one of the principal witnesses in favor of the division of the father's will. This gentleman, from his own testimony and from his letters read in evidence, proves himself to be one of the worst, most un-nearly and disgusting of characters. He lived at Hartford, on an allowance of $5,

000 per annum from his father, but this did not suffice to meet the requirements of the gentleman, who, never forgetting that he was a son of one of the wealthiest men

in America, conducted himself as an approval prodigal. He indulged a mania

for gambling, and of course lost heavily.

He consorted with low and improper characters of both sexes; he drank heavily, and in consequence was always in debt. Several times were his debts paid by his father,

but at last the sum, $50,000, was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

fiscated by his father, and he was con-

witnesses how, that his father was

property, but that he was in cutting

Daily Intelligencer.

BELEVVILLE, SATURDAY, JAN. 5.
Town and Vicinity.

TUDOR.—Mr. P. M. Guter has been re-elected Mayor by acclamation.

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. T. S. Derrill of this city has been appointed Head Master of the Perth, R. C. Separate School.

SCHOOLS.—The High and Common
Schools open on Monday, after the Christmas Holidays. This will be good news for the boys generally.

MEMORIAL Obit.—An adjourned meeting of the Memorial Club will be held at the Shire Hall on Monday evening next (Jan.
7th) at 7 1/2 o'clock.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the West End Agricultural Society is to be held in the City Hall on Wednesday, 10th inst., at 11 p. m.

COUNCIL.—Monday night is the regular night of meeting of Council, but as the election takes place on that day, it is scarcely probable that a meeting will be held.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Belleville Horticultural Society, at which Directors will be elected,
is to be held at the City Hall on Thursday, 10th inst., at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

PERSONNEL.—We understand that the commissioner of the 49th Battalion, which will be in the army of the 49th Battalion, by permission of Capt. Harrison, on Thursday next. Col. Macdonald is paymaster.

TAKEN TO KINGSTON.—William Knight,
arrested here yesterday on a charge of burglary in Waterloo, was taken to Kingston
last night in charge of Detective Hagarty, who arrived here on the evening train on
that errand.

SEPARATE SCHOOL ELECTIONS.—There is a good deal of uncertainty regarding these elections, which are to take place on Wednesday next. At present it seems quite likely that two sets of elections will be held in which case legal proceedings will doubtless ensue in order to determine who has been legally elected.

Open the pores and break up colds with SANDER'S PINKETTES.

DEMONSTRATION SERVICES.—The New M. E.
Church Tabernacle will be dedicated on Thursday, Jan. 17th. Particulars in future advertisement.

25¢ Beef family food at 25¢ per 100 lb.
H. O'Leary, Jr., four and five food. He also sells all kinds of food at proportionally low rates.

THE SPARKS.—Despite the cold weather
of the last few days, these little fire-strangers are to be seen flitting about the streets in considerable numbers, picking up a precarious living. Many of them are so black as to warrant the belief that they find a roosting place in chimneys. Their City Hall is the headquarters of these building birds.

COOL DURESS.—The celebrated "Cool", whose name is a household word in the circle of amusement, is to appear, as a completely recognized company, in the Opera House on Tuesday evening next, 8th inst. Among the principal members of the company will be found the names of Annie
and Clara Widdington, their Operatic School,
"Comic Changes, Songs, Dances, etc.",
Miss Ada Steele, Operatic Vocalists,
J. H. Stewart, the North of Ireland Comedian, and Prof. Chase, the man with the Talking Hand.

M. E. TABERNACLE.—The magnificent church erected in this city by the adherents of the M. E. Church will be formally dedicated on Thursday, 17th inst. Rev.
J. W. of Auburn, N. Y., who has dedicated upward of one thousand churches, will preach in the morning and perform the dedication services, after which a sumptuous dinner, prepared by the ladies of the proposition, will be served in the spacious basement of the tabernacle. In the evening a platform meeting will be held, at which E. D. O'Leary, Esq., of Madrid, will preside. Doubtless there will be an immense attendance.

BELLEVILLE.—The jingle of the sleigh bells was a jolly sound to-day, and the long line of sleighs waiting for the
To the merchants, doubtless, the metallic
music of the bells seemed the pleasant prattle of the rattling of money into their tillars. The sleigh bells, which have been and cash boxes, which have been of late, while to the traders on the market the tinkle of the bells was eloquent of a revival of trade in grain, beef, and to the thrifty housekeeper they spoke of cheap provisions, and above all, of high prices for the things they harvested, the class of all most affected, no doubt heard in the rattling of their harness
as they sped over the slippery roads
on their way to town, placing tillars
cash paid for their surplus produce which they did not care to bring to market

in a jelling wagon, and consequent power to make necessary purchases. So to all the sound of the tanglebells is welcome.

CONVICTS.—Andrew Stewart, George
Bolcher and James McFarlane, of this town, of testifying before the Police Magistrate
for the purpose of securing a writ of Habeas Corpus on the 4th of breaking into a shop in that town and stealing a quantity of boots. They were found guilty and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in central prison. Chief McKinnon belonged the credit of working up the case.

ELECTION DAY.—On Monday next the first election for the City of Belleville will be held. As besides a spirited contest for the Mayorship, there will be a sharp struggle for the Council, Chief McKinnon belonged the credit of working up the case.

SNOW.—The snow storm of yesterday
continued, with slight intermissions, resulting in the night. From six to eight inches we should judge, of snow fell, and now the country presents its usual winter aspect.
The temperature has fallen materially since last night and to-day we are not reasonably so far of the winter. The effect of the snow cannot but be to enliven business,
which for some weeks past has been unusually dull for the time of year.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS.—It seems probable that the Public school elections, which are to be held on Wednesday next, will pass over very quietly. The electors generally appear to be satisfied with the conduct of their representatives in the Board, and it does not seem likely that there will be more than two changes in the Board.

EDUCATION OFFICERS.—At the regular meeting of the "Active" Fire Company No. 4,
held on Wednesday evening last, the following officers were elected: Captain, John Gent; 1st Lieut., David Patterson; 2nd
Lieut., Richard Wilder; Secretary, Richard
Martin; Treasurer, Abel Finkbe; Trustees,
R. Robertson, C. Lang, J. Tennant, C.
Simmonds, J. Herring and John Bell.
After the meeting was over the members adjourned to Hamby's for an supper, after which a short time was spent in speaking and singing. The Company then separated well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

CLEANING THE SIDEWALKS.—The proceedings taken by the police last winter against parties who neglected to clear the snow from the sidewalks in front of their premises, in compliance with the new By-law, have had a good effect. To-day the sidewalks were more generally cleared than ever before, several long stretches of the sidewalks, which formerly were left clear of a snow-shower, being today clear and offering no impediment to the pedestrian.

The police will do a good work if, now that snow may be expected, they act despite in cases of non-compliance with the
By-law, the provisions of which are now understood by all residents of the city.

READING, Pa., Jan. 5.—A secret session of the Knights of Labor, delegates from the order of Members of the Star, have been sitting here since Monday. The object is believed to be the formation of a new political party favoring labor and reform.
WISCONSIN, Va., Jan. 5.—Henry Dash once immensely wealthy, and who has been married twice, quarrelled with his wife, who suddenly turned him out of the house, which was burned by her, and it is said began to lead an immoral life. Dash yesterday shot himself dead on his first wife's grave.

Boston, Jan. 5.—The most serious disaster
yet reported is the total loss of the fishing
sloop "Fow-wow," of Princeton, Capt.
Matthew Cagen, wrecked on Truro beach.
The captain and four of his crew were lost
here.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Washington special.
The Tribune says the report on Mexican Affairs which Schleicher, Chairman of the sub-committee, is preparing for submission to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs will be the most exhaustive document on the subject ever submitted to Congress.
Secretary of the Interior, John W. Foster, Fulton to go on with the sale of property
abandoned at the Centennial exhibition.
The Assistant Commissioners to the Paris

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The Republic's President, Gambetta's organ, calls on the Government to remove the present commanders of several army corps. Most of these generals are Republican and have Republican sympathies.

A despatch from Constantinople states that if Russia rejects mediation, Turkey will avail
itself of the British fleet in the Bosphorus
to make direct overtures to Russia.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Washington
special says the question of adjusting the vote of the Ball for the re-convention of silver was considered in the Cabinet yesterday. The discussion indicated very clearly that the amendment proposed by the opponents to unlimited recoinstitution, but favorable to restoring the silver dollar, with a restriction of legal tender status, is the one which will probably be framed at the Treasury Department for introduction in the Senate as a compromise measure, or else an effort will be made to amend the Bland Bill to come up to amend it so as to make the silver dollar equal to greenbacks, and a legal tender to the same extent as U. S.
Treasury notes. This will not be done

THE EASTERN WAR.

MIDNIGHT DESPATCHES.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—There seems to be no doubt that England has recommended Turkey

to treat separately with the Russians for peace, and that the Porte will act upon the advice. So strong is the belief that Turkey

will in this instance prove amenable to reason,

that a marked rise in the price of securities

and commodities is taking place in the London

and Continental markets. The line of fortifications around Constantinople has been completed and the city is now believed to be immune from attack. The following is the official report of the polling in the above township.

Reverend. Council.

Subdivision No. 1.

Total, 338 181 270 81 368

D. Anderson, 1st Deputy Mayor, Thos. Curry,

2nd do.,—by acclamation.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The election of Public School Trustees

was held very quietly, there being no opposition, except in Foster Ward. The following are the returns:

Foster Ward.—Mr. Newberry, the returning Trustee, is opposed by Mr. R. M.

Clark. Mr. Clark was nominated without opposition, and took no part in the election.

Up to 2.30 p.m. 44 votes had been polled

for Mr. Newberry and but 4 for Mr. Clark.

Baldwin Ward.—Wm. Wensley.

Ketchum Ward.—Dr. B. S. Wilson.

Baldwin Ward.—W. A. Shepard.

Bleeker Ward.—Wm. W. Northcott.

Murray Ward.—James Gills.

Coleman Ward.—Prof. John Macoun.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Two sets of elections were held, one by the City Deputy Returning Officers and the other by officials appointed by a majority of Trustees. The members were in each case returned by acclamation,

and the validity of the elections was determined in the Court.

The following were returned by the City

officials:

BALDWIN WARD.—James Nolan.

MURPHY WARD.—Thos. O. Holger.

KETCHUM WARD.—P. L. Lynde.

SAMPSON WARD.—Richard Castello.

FOSTER WARD.—David Brodman.

BLEEKER WARD.—John Doyle.

COLEMAN WARD.—Jos. Durand.

Those returned by the other officials:

BALDWIN WARD.—M. J. Granger.

MURPHY WARD.—Jas. McGuire.

KETCHUM WARD.—John Fox.

SAMPSON WARD.—Jas. Cummings.

FOSTER WARD.—F. Flynn.

BLEEKER WARD.—Michael Graham.

COLEMAN WARD.—John Taughter.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

The following is a synopsis of the School

Census of the City and of that part of Thor-onto annexed to Belleville for School purposes, as recently conducted by Mr. W. E.

McCoey, employed by the Board to make the enumeration:

HOLIDAYS, 1877 AND 1878.

DESIRED public to thank my numerous friends and customers for the very liberal patronage they have bestowed upon my business the past three years; and being alive to the requirements of an increasing trade, I have removed from my former place of business into a new and commodious store.

next to Conger Bros, which I have fitted up in a better position to attend to the wants of the public than ever, being in a more central and airy place, by keeping only the choice of goods in my line, to meet a continuance of the patronage so liberally extended to me in the past.

Having secured the services of one of the most competent workmen in the Dominion, my goods will always be of the very best quality of Cakes and Biscuits.

New York Toys and Confectionery supplied for the Holiday trade.

OSTERS. The best brand always in stock, and as cheap as any. Traded delivered to any part of the City, by our own boy. Remember this place, next door to Conger Bros.

The Queen vs. Miller.

The following is the judgment delivered by the Police Magistrate in the above case:

The prisoner, on the information of Hercules Thompson, stands charged with having, at Belleville, on the 5th day of January, A. D. 1877, feloniously stolen, from the premises of Hercules Thompson, the property of Hercules Thompson.

The evidence discloses that the prisoner is a person of the name of Miller, and that some three or four weeks previously to the date of the offence, he entered into a contract with the prosecutor, Thompson, whereby he was to manufacture 60 of said machines at the price of one dollar and fifty cents each, at the rate of 10 or 20 a day.

It is laid down in 1, Hals 513 that where there is a contract of a personal nature, and one of them carries it away and disposes of it, there is no larceny. There is in fact no taking, it is in fact the subject of the action of account or Bill in Equity.

The taking in the present case could have been effected in the hands of Thompson, of making these machines. He simply lent the right to hold them until he was paid. On the 5th day of January, he was unable to find any such strictly applicable. It is therefore held that the rule laid down in Rex vs. Wilkinson, and in 1, Hals 513, is not applicable.

These still remain the two further questions, whether the right goods were taken, and whether the prisoner was guilty of the offence. The evidence discloses that the prisoner is a person of the name of Miller, and that some three or four weeks previously to the date of the offence, he entered into a contract with the prosecutor, Thompson, whereby he was to manufacture 60 of said machines at the price of one dollar and fifty cents each, at the rate of 10 or 20 a day.

NICHOLAS MINTURN, A STUDY IN A STORY.

THE rogue staggered to his feet, and stood his head on the book.

"You solemnly swear, that you honestly and truly tell me, that you are not the man who stole the money from me?"

"I do, sir, and that's what I call business. You will as well have come to it before as it wasn't my fault that you did."

"Now, if you have lied to me, Bill, I'll make this place too hot for you."

"Don't tell this to anybody else," said Glen.

"For what you've told me, nothing," said Glen, "until I am convinced you are not the man who stole the money from me."

"He found himself sitting lightly on his seat, and leaning forward, with the strange, involuntary fancy that he was tightening the bolts of the door."

"But the cab rolled on over the story streets, past the theatre, and the women were darning themselves, past the saloons ablaze with light, past the long rows of dark warehouses, the surrounding lines of dingy street-lamps, and he held to his seat as if by some fatal necessity."

"What the matter? I am pale. Are you?"

"I have heard the devil's own story to-night," said Glen, sinking into his chair.

Information Regarding Manitoba.

(From the Winnipeg Free Press.)

The following is in reply to enquiries received by letters from the other provinces:

Free grant lands cannot now be obtained within forty miles of Winnipeg.

Timber lands along the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, within four or five miles of Winnipeg may be purchased from private parties.

Timber in large quantities is available about thirty miles east of the city.

Conceded in western Manitoba, poplar, $3.50 to $4.50, and oak, $5 to $6.

Unimproved lands on the river between Red River and Winnipeg may be had from $5 to $10 per acre, beyond that distance at $8 to $3 per acre.

Fur-bearing and other animals are about sixty miles from Winnipeg.

The Pembina Branch of the Canada Pacific Railway touches the Red River immediately opposite Winnipeg.

The main line strikes the Red River about twenty miles north of Winnipeg, which point (Saskatoon) is the junction of the main line and Pembina Branch.

Navigation on the Red River generally opens about the 25th of April, and the first boat from the United States usually reaches Winnipeg from the 28th of April to the 1st of May.

There is but little vacant Government land on the Red or Assiniboine Rivers within Manitoba.

Improved lands within twenty miles of Winnipeg can be bought for $3 to $5 per acre.

An industrious and frugal man could start farming with $1,000.

School teachers' certificates from other provinces are not recognized in Manitoba.

There is no teachers' training school in the province. Candidates for teachers' certificates have to submit to examination. The standard is fairly high, but there is a sufficient number of graduates to enable any person qualified to teach to obtain a license. Teachers' salaries range from $500 to $1,000 annually. The latter is the highest paid. The principal of the Winnipeg Public School.

City and Vicinity.

CITY COUNCIL.—A meeting of the City Council will be held on Monday night.

BAITING.—Baiting Sunday will fall this year on the 21st of April.

FOO.—A dance for hung over the city will be held on Monday night.

When the sky is hot and dry, take SANDWICH JAMICA GINGER.

REPAIRING.—No. 1 steam fire engine is being repaired by workmen from the workshop of Mr. Burton, the manufacturer of the machine.

LATE.—The mail from the west was sent at a half hour late today. The cause was the lateness of the train in leaving Toronto.

SPECIAL SERVICE.—A sermon, specially addressed to young men, will be preached in the Baptist Church to-morrow night, by the pastor. All are cordially invited.

Best family flour at 25 cts per 100 lb. at H. Corby, Jr., four and feed store. He also sells all kinds of feed at proportionally low rates.

THE MARKET.—There was a goodly attendance on the market this morning. Buyers and sellers were out in force and the supply was equal to the demand.

Cemetery Company.—The stockholders of the Belleville Cemetery Company are to meet at the Secretary's office at 3 p. m. on Monday, to receive the annual report, elect Directors and transact other business.

THE ROADS.—Sleighing in town is very poor, but a short distance beyond the city limits the roads are good. There was a considerable number of sleighs laden with produce on the market, this morning.

COUNTY COUNCIL.—The County Council will meet on Tuesday, but it is not probable that organization will take place until the members from the far northern townships have been given an opportunity to be present.

DISORDERLY HOUSE.—Sergeants Snider and McCudden and Officer Mahon made a raid on a house—said to be a disorderly—kept by Charles DeMott, on Front Street, about 3 o'clock this morning and arrested DeMott and two female inmates and other place.

LECTURE.—The famous lecturer, Dr. G. H. Fowler, of New York City, who has been engaged to lecture in our city about the first of March, on his trip through Canada. This will afford our citizens an opportunity of hearing one of the most eloquent speakers of the United States.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The Entertainment for the Sunday Schools of Church and St. George's, will be held in the City Hall, on Monday evening next, Jan. 21st, at 7:30 o'clock. A good magic lantern will be procured for the occasion. Admission free; children 10 cts; children of the Sunday-Schools free.

FOR FEBRUARY.—St. Nicholas for February breathes a fresh and hearty roving spirit. It carries us to the reefs of the Bahamas, to the tea lands of China, among the birds of Florida, through perils and mirages in African deserts, to foggy London streets, and to the tropical wonder land of a "Robinson Crusoe" story.

TO-MORROW'S SERVICES.—The services in the M. E. Tabernacle to-morrow promise to be of great interest, all the gentlemen announced to officiate being very able speakers. The announcement will be found in our advertising columns. Rev. Dr. Nims, of Detroit, will on Monday evening deliver his celebrated lecture on a tour in the Holy Land. Admission free.

THE MIDWINTER SUNDAY.—The current number of Scribner, of which 100,000 copies are printed, is called the "Midwinter Number," and is thought by the publishers to exceed in attractiveness the Midwinter numbers of 1876 and 1877. Among the notable features is a full page portrait of Lincoln, by Wyatt Eaton, from the last and little known photograph. This view of Lincoln is here engraved for the first time by Cole, to accompany Noah Brooks's "Personal Reminiscences of Lincoln."

SITTING ON THE POOR MAN.—The cartoon in Gripe of the 10th powerfully yet truthfully portrays the injustice of the law regarding exemptions from taxation. A laborer, sick in heart and hard to work, is represented as bearing on his back and bowed beneath the weight of law-drawn representatives of the "great camp," namely the official, judicial and clerical classes, posted on each other's shoulders and taking in turn on a mighty bag of dollars (taxes). A placard near by shows the popular demand in these words: "No class legislation in law from the poor. Down with exemptions. Let every man pay his share of the money. Signed—John Holmes, and every other sensible man. The hit is a capital one, and ought to influence the minds of our Provincial rulers, who have hitherto refused to do justice in the matter.

LECTURE.—Mr. F. Tanning will lecture in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, 22nd inst., under the auspices of the Fire Department. Subject—"Russian Invasion of the Ottoman Empire."

BANK AGENTS.—The Bank of Commerce, which about to open a branch in Belleville, have appointed Mr. Robert Thomson, Manager of the Merchants Bank, as their Agent. The Bank authorities have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Thomson, who possesses eminent qualifications for the position, and is deservingly popular in business circles.

We have no doubt that the Belleville Branch of the Bank of Commerce will prove highly successful under his management.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION.—The Peterborough Review gives the following as a statement of the rate of taxation in the different places mentioned—Peterborough 14 mls; Kingston 16 mls; Toronto 19 mls; St. Mary's 16 mls; Hope 16 mls; Cobourg 20 mls; Napanee 19 mls; Galt 20 mls; Guelph 20 mls; Lindsay 16 mls; Thorold 17 mls; Belleville 18 mls; Brockville 19 mls; Chatham 20 mls; Elmhurst 17 mls. We do not know whence the Review got its information, but it is certainly wrong as regards Belleville, the rate here being 16 instead of 18 mls, as stated—a very important difference.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.—Notwithstanding the more magnifying the rain in the E. Methodist Tabernacle, the previous day, the St. John's Church in the City Hall evening in aid of the building funds of St. John's Church, met with gratifying success. For the night in the market below the Hall, a profusion of the choicest viands had been provided by the members and friends of the Church. The guests to the number of about 300, did simple justice to the repast, after which they proceeded to the Hall to enjoy the musical and literary portion of the entertainment. At 8 o'clock the chair was taken by Prof. Dawson; and Dr. Crozier and Messrs. Greaves and Baker, with Mr. Campbell, pianist, opened the programme with a recited Overture, "The Two Blind Men of Toledo." The same company, joined by Miss Murray, also favored the audience later on in the evening with the Overture composed by Dr. Crozier, which elicited well-deserved applause. Mrs. Reid's treble was sweet and clear in the several duets and operatic selections in which she took a prominent part. A young lady, who we afterwards learned was Miss Leslie, a visitor from Prescott, appeared in several choruses, and sang a couple of songs with great taste and expression. Colonel Campbell, Mr. Costello, and Mr. McMurtry, sang several songs with spirit and power, and well deserved their encores. Mr. Carmichael gave a splendid martial recitation, which was rapturously applauded. Altogether the concert, for an amateur one, was excellent, and creditable to all who took part in it. The programme being concluded, his Worship the Mayor of the City, who occupied a seat on the platform, made a few appropriate and congratulatory remarks, after which Rev. Mr. Furness rose and expressed the hope that the entertainment which had just closed, had given satisfaction and enjoyment to those who had patronized it. He thanked the audience, and particularly the Mayor, for their presence. He remarked that it augured well for the City to see its head countenancing and encouraging religious undertakings; he thanked his best thanks to the City Council, Dr. Crozier, and all who had assisted in the concert, to the projectors and helpers of the undertaking, and to all the friends who had so bountifully contributed to furnish the supper table. "God save the Queen" was then sung, and the audience dispersed, the Chairman having previously announced an entertainment for the 8. S. children and others in the small hall Methodist Church, West Belleville, on Tuesday evening next; admission 10 cents.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE INTELLIGENCER.
DEAR SIR.—Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to return my thanks to those members of the late Council who have made such very flattering comments upon the success of the management of the Police force the past year.

I regret not having been in my place at the last meeting of the Council to thank those gentlemen in person; and now take this opportunity of assuring them that their and the public's approval of my humble effort to make the force efficient, fully compensates me for any unpleasant duties I may have had to perform in carrying out what I conceived to be my duty to those who placed me in that position; and would say that without the able and generous assistance extended to me by the whole Council, but more particularly by the members of the Police Committee, I fear there would not have been so flattering a result. As to the Chief of the force, the force does the principal part for the discipline and efficiency of the force, and the improvements made (and they are not few) have nearly all been suggested by him, and I have no doubt or hesitation in saying that under the management of the able gentlemen who now compose the Board of Commissioners, the force under his directions will give the citizen every protection their limited number will admit of, and would justly recommend the force to be increased to ten more—so soon as the finances of the City will admit of it—as two men on the streets are not sufficient protection to any part of the city, excepting Front Street.

I notice no report has yet been published of the amount of fines and fees imposed, or the amount paid in. I think it is worthy of notice that this should be done. It is due to the people to show what they are doing, and also to the taxpayers, to show what return is being made for the heavy amount that is being levied to pay for the keeping of the force; and I am sure that a new order of things is about being established, I trust some of our valiant Aldermen will introduce a by-law which would require a "monthly report" from the Police Clerk showing the amount of fines and fees imposed and the amount paid.

Thanking you for having granted me so much of your valuable space.

Yours, &c.
Geo. H. Pora.

THE EASTERN WAR.
MIDNIGHT DESPATCHES.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The preliminary armistice negotiations have commenced, the Grand Duke Nicholas having sent the Turkish plenipotentiaries at Timso-Semra, twenty-one miles to the north-west of Adrianople. The first Russian demand, as a non possumus, was the evacuation of Adrianople and was rejected by the Turkish representatives, and has since been complied with, Djumli Pasha, the commander of the garrison, having withdrawn to the entrenchments behind the city, where reinforcements are now being concentrated. An individual who ought to be well informed, saying that he is described as "a person who helps to draw up the armistice conditions," gives little hope of the success of the negotiations, as he declared that the terms were framed in such a shape that it would not be likely the Porte would accede to them.

The Anglo-American move respecting the separate peace negotiations seems to have been re-kindled in the Ottoman breast the inspiring hope of foreign intervention, inasmuch as the Ambassadors of the Porte in Vienna and London have been instructed by the Emperor and the Sultan to make a protest, and explain the protest, and explain how far Turkey may depend upon the support of those two Powers.

In Eastern Bulgaria the Turks have evacuated Kizan, thus throwing open to the Russians the head of the Balkan Pass, leading to Karakulak and thence due south to Adrianople, and all the war material at Ouzum Ezarhas been removed to Eski Djuma.

A Vienna despatch states that a party of Greek volunteers have crossed the Turkish frontier.

The London journals this morning discuss the Queen's speech, and the general sentiment is warm approval of the speech and the Government's statements.

The Times says: Nothing more satisfactory to the country with respect to the immediate course of public affairs could well have occurred than the declarations yesterday in the Queen's speech as well as the Ministerial leaders in Parliament. The alarms recently raised respecting the possibility of a warlike policy being adopted by the Government may now be finally dismissed.

The Times, commenting on the documents contained in the late book published yesterday, says:—In Lord Derby's recent despatches we cannot find a trace of apprehensions such as those which have justified the late outburst of war feeling in certain quarters. It is now abundantly clear that the feeling was confined to a small though noisy minority, but it will be a satisfaction and relief to the whole country to know that it found no echo in the official utterances of the Government.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The preliminary armistice negotiations have commenced, the Grand Duke Nicholas having sent the Turkish plenipotentiaries at Timso-Semra, twenty-one miles to the north-west of Adrianople. The first Russian demand, as a non possumus, was the evacuation of Adrianople and was rejected by the Turkish representatives, and has since been complied with, Djumli Pasha, the commander of the garrison, having withdrawn to the entrenchments behind the city, where reinforcements are now being concentrated. An individual who ought to be well informed, saying that he is described as "a person who helps to draw up the armistice conditions," gives little hope of the success of the negotiations, as he declared that the terms were framed in such a shape that it would not be likely the Porte would accede to them.

The Anglo-American move respecting the separate peace negotiations seems to have been re-kindled in the Ottoman breast the inspiring hope of foreign intervention, inasmuch as the Ambassadors of the Porte in Vienna and London have been instructed by the Emperor and the Sultan to make a protest, and explain the protest, and explain how far Turkey may depend upon the support of those two Powers.

In Eastern Bulgaria the Turks have evacuated Kizan, thus throwing open to the Russians the head of the Balkan Pass, leading to Karakulak and thence due south to Adrianople, and all the war material at Ouzum Ezarhas been removed to Eski Djuma.

A Vienna despatch states that a party of Greek volunteers have crossed the Turkish frontier.

The London journals this morning discuss the Queen's speech, and the general sentiment is warm approval of the speech and the Government's statements.

The Times says: Nothing more satisfactory to the country with respect to the immediate course of public affairs could well have occurred than the declarations yesterday in the Queen's speech as well as the Ministerial leaders in Parliament. The alarms recently raised respecting the possibility of a warlike policy being adopted by the Government may now be finally dismissed.

The Times, commenting on the documents contained in the late book published yesterday, says:—In Lord Derby's recent despatches we cannot find a trace of apprehensions such as those which have justified the late outburst of war feeling in certain quarters. It is now abundantly clear that the feeling was confined to a small though noisy minority, but it will be a satisfaction and relief to the whole country to know that it found no echo in the official utterances of the Government.

"Miss Larkin," he said, while the forsook his trembling lips. "I have carried a thought in my heart from the first day
our meeting, and I must speak it now."

Miss Larkin apprehended the aimless and, of course, useless. The of your hand has fructified my life. W ever I am to-day, and whatever I am, do help breathing. Whatever may come it—whatever may be your feeling to-me—you must permit me to tell you that for you are a constant presence in my work and my nightly dreams. You my angel of inspiration. It seems as God himself had expressed his love for through you, and that my return for gift has been made through the spirichannel. Humbly, and without boast-let me say that what I have given has as pure as that which I have received. I now that I see you in danger,—where I know that you are in hands unworthy your keeping,—my heart and hands appeal to your defence. I wish to shield you long to make you mine—to hold the right to stand between you and all danger."

she attempted to do so. At their close she gave a convulsive sob, as if her heart had risen to her mouth, and she had forced it violently back to its place. Overcome by her emotion, it was a long time before she could speak.

"Mr. Minturn," she said, after a period of painful silence, "it is a hard return to make for such a confession as yours. But I must say to you—however much it cost me—that you have given me the

"It must be!" exclaimed Nicholas, starting to his feet. "It shall be! I have lived for! Why did God bring together! Does he delight in mocking poor creatures! Does he rejoice in torture! Does he set traps for them, beguile them into bondage, that he laugh at them! Why has he spoken me through you? Why has he been Nicholas walked the room, back and forth, like a tiger newly caged, pausing at Miss Larkin's chair and looking intently at her upturned eyes to emphasize his wild emotions.

"My dear friend, do not talk in this way," he said, "I have never loved before me as a prize, and made every moment of these last months more precious than gold with the thought of you must be! It shall be!"

"Then why do you say it cannot be?" said Nicholas, bending at her side. "I say"—and his voice grew low and tremulous—"that you do not love me—that cannot love me—I will try with all my help to bear it, and bear a life short of every hope and every aim except forfulness; but there is no other reason, God's world that I will accept. Do

Miss Larkin had dropped her eyes; she did not dare to raise them. Oh, that she could feel at liberty to respond to this passion, every drop of which was with life for her!—every drop of what was feeding her, at the fountain of her

"You are a man," she said. "Can you bear pain? Can you bear pain with me?"

"I can bear anything with you," he responded.

"Can you bear separation with me?"

"I can bear any separation that is necessary."

"Oh, what shall I say to you? I can I say to you? What would you do for me—what would your friends think of me—if, in my helplessness and uselessness I were willing to appropriate your

"You do not love me! You cannot love me!" exclaimed Nicholas, hotly.

"I don't see why that should matter," she said.

"Are you so cold? Is it all a mistake? Do you suppose that I could be so base as to forsake and deny the woman I love, permit her to sacrifice herself for any cause?"

"My friend,—my best friend,—can you understand that the measure of man's love is to be found in the measure of his service?"

"What are you saying?" said Nicholas eagerly.

She looked up into his eyes while the tears rained down her cheeks. He reached all. What divine intuition gave him this great revelation of the power of love which whispered in his ear, what miracle had been wrought upon her for which he had been made unconsciously ready, he did not know, but he extended his arms and

"Mine!" he said. "Mine forever!"

He held her to his breast in a long transport of happiness, and then, for the first time he realized the change in her.

"Great God!" he exclaimed, putting head away from him. "Do you know you are on your feet!"

"Am I!" she asked with a start.

This was too much for Nicholas.
He had fought his way through all the difficulties of the hour, sometimes desperate

THE EASTERN WAR.
MIDNIGHT DESPATCHES.

LONDON, Jan. 25. — A strange rumor is abroad that the Russian conditions include private arrangements for the return of the Baltic Fleet to the Baltic Sea. The report is probably untrue.

It is stated that the Laide, of Birkenhead, received a telegram last night ordering them to prepare their ship-laying yard for laying down new gunboats.

The admiralty has ordered the dispatch of the Laide and the frigate Albatross to the Baltic Sea for the purpose of maintaining the status quo in the Baltic Sea.

It is stated that the reason for countermanding the order to the fleet was the imminent danger of a collision with the Russian fleet.

In the House of Lords Earl Carnarvon and that Earl Beaconsfield severely criticized the Russian conditions, and the latter declared that he would not support them.

Earl Carnarvon in the House of Lords to-day said, although the order to the fleet had been countermanded there has been some time a wide divergence between himself and the Cabinet. When Lord Carnarvon declared the Opposition cheered him.

Earl Beaconsfield said on listening to Earl Carnarvon's speech would be a loss to understand why he resigned. Earl Beaconsfield referred to my whether Lord Derby had resigned.

Earl Derby was not present in the Lords to-day, but it is said he was in the lobby, and that his resignation is in suspense.

It is stated that the Daily Telegraph reported that the Russian conditions were not so hard as those officially communicated. It is believed that the Duke of Richmond will replace Earl Carnarvon.

Earl Beaconsfield said the instructions to the fleet to proceed to the Dardanelles and Constantinople were not in violation from the policy of neutrality. The fleet was to protect British interests. The Government, having learned the peace conditions, had ordered the Admiral to remain in Bessika Bay.

A Constantinople despatch says — (Selat) Pasha informed Mr. Lydard that the Porte had made a solemn engagement to keep the Constantinople secret treaty was signed. It had to-day telegraphed to its plenipotentiaries to accept the conditions. It would communicate them to the plenipotentiaries the moment they were signed.

The Daily News publishes the following points in the terms of peace additional to those published by the Daily Telegraph: Bulgaria to acquire some territory south of the Balkans; Bosnia and the Herzegovina to be neutralized; protection and reform and a Christian Government; security to be given for the better government of the Balkans; the Russian provinces of Bessarabia and the question of the Dardanelles to be reserved for the consideration of the European Powers.

A St. Petersburg special says — The immense stores here have been long on hand, and that the depot at Biele, Tirova, Gabrova, and Sirovi are not exhausted. Neither the stores nor the transport of the contractors in the towns of the Danube did by thousands. There is good crossing on the ice now.

General Ignatieff left St. Petersburg yesterday for Kozakoff.

It is again alleged that the Russians are advancing on Gallipoli.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

LONDON, Jan. 25. — A despatch from Constantinople says in consequence of not receiving countermanding orders in time, the British fleet sailed from Bessika Bay and passed through the Dardanelles. The shore batteries saluted the English flag as the vessels passed. The fleet is now proceeding to Constantinople.

The above despatch has created a decided sensation in official circles in this city.

A Constantinople despatch says the fleet stopped at the mouth of the Dardanelles. Orders were received, and it will return to Bessika Bay.

LONDON, Jan. 25. — The Standard says a statement will be issued to-day showing the services to which the £60,000,000 will probably be applicable. £3,000,000 are apportioned to the army; £2,000,000 to the navy; and £1,000,000 to contingencies.

LONDON, Jan. 25. — The uncertainty of the Austrian Government is further increased by further complications in the home policy.

The Triumph special edition contains the following: "Gallipoli, 25 p. m. — The guns are being a heavy salute at the Dardanelles."

LATER. Admiral Horvich took the fleet to the Dardanelles, where at the telegraph station he received the countermand. He did not, therefore, proceed to the forts, but returned to Bessika Bay.

VIENNA, Jan. 25. — A despatch says Germany is sending Russia the terms of peace to the consideration of the Great Powers.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25. — Geo. Howard, colored tramp, for rape, was sentenced to State Prison for life. John Gilbert, colored, for same crime, to fifteen years imprisonment.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25. — R. J. Watson, coal dealer, has failed; liabilities $200,000; assets nearly the same.

WEATHER REPORTS.

TORONTO, Jan. 25. — In the Lower Lake region the pressure has decreased, with fresh easterly to southeasterly winds, and cloudy weather with some snow at night. In the St. Lawrence winds have shifted to the east and east, with fair to cloudy weather, and at night, the barometer has risen in the lower portion and fallen in the upper. In the Keweenaw pressure the barometer has increased with moderate winds and fair to cloudy weather. This morning the pressure has fallen in the Keweenaw and in the Southern States and over the Lake region. Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: For the Lower Lake region, fresh westerly to northwesterly winds, with fair weather. The majority of people feel like going out, but the weather is not so favorable as it was yesterday. For the Maritime Provinces, fresh northeasterly to easterly winds, with cloudy weather and snow at night. For the Middle States and Lakes, cloudy, occasional light rain, subsequently clearing or sober.

ARRIVALS REPORTED AT CUSTOMS.

Express — 1. W. H. H. (1). 2. Halligan (1); Miss Murray (1); Dickens & Sons (1). G. T. R. — Consolidated Bank 200 bags; and W. L. L. — 1 car.

FOR SALE.

The Subscriber offers for Sale
THREE Houses and Grounds on Bridge Street, comprising about 21 acres—most desirable
site for a residence.

A 3 story House, and Lot, in rear of G.
Bogart & Co.'s store, extending to the river.

A 2 story brick house and about 21 acres of land, on west side of Coleman Street. The ground could be cut up into several lots, to suit purchasers.

About 500 feet on the bank of the river Muir, on the east side of Coleman Street, and running to low water mark, could be cut up into small lots.

Lot 6 and 7, south side Water Street, with Docks and Warehouse—a splendid site for Grain Elevators, as two or three vessels could load at once. This property would be well suited for a Farmers' Warehousing Company.

NICHOLAS MINTURN,
A STUDY IN A STORY.

J. G. HOLLAND,
AUTHOR OF "SEVENOAKS," "ARTHUR
BONNEMATE," ETC.

CHAPTER XXVI.

IN WHICH NICHOLAS AND TALKING TIM CONTINUE TO "HURDLE THE FRUIT OF
"THE STURGEON'S" CYPRESS.

The failure of Nicholas to interest the professional and other philanthropists of the city in his grand scheme of reformation
and cure did not leave him in good humor.
He saw, or thought he saw, motives at the bottom of their opposition which were worthy only of his contempt. He failed, at least,
to see, in any of their schemes, a recognition of the necessity of radical measures.

It was true that many a faithful missionary of the Christian religion was endeavoring to change character and life. It was true that great efforts were making to implant
good principles in the young, and to direct them into good habits. It was true that great good was done to the poor who were not paupers—men and women who, with neatness and womanhood intact, were bravely struggling to keep their heads above water, and rear their children to virtue and industry.

To these the author had no objection. To every man was indeed a helping hand. To every woman was indeed a helping hand. To every child was indeed a helping hand. To every poor man was indeed a helping hand.

Beauregard and Carburv.

THEIR SPEECHES IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

CAUSES OF CANADIAN REAGINATION.

The following is a report of the discussion in the House of Commons on January 28th, 1878, on the subject of the Government's policy in regard to the exclusion of the Dominion of Wales from the Empire.

In the House of Lords, Lord Beauregard, in reply to a question propounded by the Earl of Shaftesbury, said that it was a fact that instructions had been given to the Government to prepare a bill to be introduced to the House of Commons, for the purpose of excluding the Dominion of Wales from the Empire.

He maintained that the British fleet was to be sent to the Dominion of Wales, and that the British fleet was to be sent to the Dominion of Wales, and that the British fleet was to be sent to the Dominion of Wales.
